Project 2

Non automated test case explantation

Nicklash & Danaaz

1. Create account cannot be automated for several reasons. First of all CAPTCHA changes between every attempt and second is after first run the username would be taken so it can't be used again.
2. "Add email" cannot be automated because once an email is added to the account the link changes to "change email". We did a "bypass" by removing the email between runs.
3. Change email can be automated but it would be redundant as the information wouldn't change.
4. Changing password can be done but it would be a redundant test as you would have to do it twice from password A to password B and then back from B to A. Because from A to A would give an error as shown in it's manual case.
5. Changing the language settings can't be done automated as once it is changed from one to another all the links change to this new language. There is a way to do this by changing from language A to language B, then in B change back to A. This would then test the function but it is also redundant.
6. The function to choose your display gender cannot be automated as it is a radio button that would never be changed in value, it can be done in a test but would do nothing as show in some of our other automated tests.
7. We have not automated gadgets or beta features as this is only a series of clicks on check boxes.
8. Drop boxes will give no result when done automated as there would be no changing of information.
